PAGEANT GROUP TO BE ORGANIZED FOR 1931 PRODUCTION

October 6 Tentatively Set
As Date For Meeting to Discuss Situation

GENE NISBET HONORED

Chamber Directors Hear Report of Celebration
Committee

First steps toward the formation of a permanent organization to annually present the Pioneer Pilgrimage pageant will be taken in about two weeks, as the result of the decision by the chamber of commerce directors at the meeting in Davis cafe yesterday noon.

After Walter W. Horak, chairman of the general committee, made an unofficial report, it was decided that in about two weeks, probably October 6, a meeting would be held, at which time representatives of all the civic groups in Upland would be invited.

In the meantime, the general pageant committee will hold a meeting and discuss the future events and prepare a recommendation. This recommendation will be presented at the meeting in two weeks for discussion.

That the Pioneer Pilgrimage will be presented next year is the decision of the chamber directors, but the scope and nature of the permanent organization are indefinite at present.

As an annual feature along with the Pioneer Pilgrimage pageant, an effort will be made to connect the presentation of the First Californians, a musical and historical drama, or the presentation of some other appropriate production. Possibility of tying in the "First Californians" with the local pageant was discussed by the directors and this phase of the project will be investigated.

Realizing that the pageant was produced through the efforts of a few leaders and through the combined cooperation of scores of local people, the chamber officials acknowledged the assistance and gave to Gene Nisbet, the director, the honor of being the person most largely responsible for the highly successful presentation of the pageant. A vote of thanks was also given the general celebration committee.

A token of appreciation will also be given to Mr. Nisbet for his successful efforts and interest in the event.

Clair E. Kirk, chamber secretary, and Mr. Horak were also singled out as being important leaders in the success of the production.

Definite date and time for the meeting to permanently organize a pageant group will not be set until the general committee is ready to submit its recommendation. Glenn M. Atwood, chamber president, suggested the October 6 date, regular meeting time of the chamber directors.

COMEDY WILL BE GIVEN ON FRIDAY

"Goose Creek Line" Will Be Presented by Bethany
Church Group

"The Goose Creek Line," dealing with a country telephone line, is a two-act comedy, which will be presented at 7:30 o'clock Friday night by the intermediate Christian Endeavor of the Bethany Union church, San Antonio Heights. This is one of the church's activities to raise money for the missionary box, which is sent annually to Kentucky. The comedy, along with other numbers on the program, will be given in the church.

For months the various church organizations and residents of the Heights have been sponsoring various activities toward the end of making a large gift and the young people of the league hope to add to the contribution.

In the cast are Harry Potter, Harry Kendall, Lottie Kear, Florence Clewett, Marjorie Millard, Miriam Millard, Tom Kendall, Pansy Warner, Sada Nagasaki, Lillian Clewett, Wanda Warburton, Dorothy Kear and Lily Warner.

A musical program will also be presented, including the Christian Endeavor quartet, violin numbers and chorus singing.

VILLAGE GOSSIP

By the Mayor

Human eyes and those of most all animals blessed with the sense of sight, feast upon color. Nature uses brilliant shades in endless variety in all its kingdoms to intrigue the eye and delight the senses.

Color is the cry of the age and our modern color schemes for landscape, building or dress vie with those of the birds and flowers.

This morning's mail brought me the announcement of "Paint Week" from my friend, the little giant—"Castoria" Manker, and his chief hair dresser, Charlie Benson.

Fletcher's illustrated paint propaganda reminds me of four separate and distinct plots of our own that need the magic of his artists and the counsel of his most excellent judgment. In two of these cases—if not all—it would be less expensive, more efficient and slightly to repaint anew than to attempt to clean with soap, water or what have you.

There are weeks dedicated to everything from chewing tobacco to primroses until the calendar is almost overworked, but if any subject ever deserved the limelight "Paint Up" week gets the curtain call.

Every bit of freshening that all of us do not only gives our creative sense a thrill, but it enables the whole neighborhood

TAX CAMPAIGN IS STARTED BY GRIER

Supervisor Head Speaks Today
at L. A. Chamber Meeting; Hunter Here

Launching the campaign in Los Angeles for constitutional amendment No. 21, which will appear on the November ballot, C. E. Grier, San Bernardino county supervisor, and chairman of the Southern California committee, spoke at the meeting of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce at noon today.

With Mr. Grier here yesterday was J. H. Hunter, who is chairman of the state committee in the interests of the amendment, and the two discussed the campaign that is being started to educate the voters as to the effects of the measure.

Headquarters for the Southern California campaign have been established in the San Bernardino county courthouse.

The proposed measure provides for the reimbursement of counties for the loss of revenues sustained by the withdrawal from local taxation of public utility operative property taxed for state purposes.

The change of taxation methods from direct county taxation on operative property to state taxation was made in 1911, and in effect established a dual system of taxation and eliminated the counties from receiving returns from public utility holdings they support annually at a tremendous cost, Mr. Grier explained today.

Annual Patriotic Picnic Thursday

The annual picnic for members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. will be held Thursday, Sept. 25, at the home of Mrs. Princess Long, East Francis street, Ontario.

The picnic dinner to which each one will contribute, will be held at the noon hour and all who attend are requested to bring their own table service as well as their lunch.

Free transportation will be provided for those who desire it, the bus being at the Ontario American Legion hall at 10:30 in the morning.

New Furniture Store Head Joins Brothers

J. C. Harris, owner of the Harris Furniture company, new store in Upland, with his four brothers, will leave the last of this week for southern Oregon on a fishing and hunting trip. The Harris brothers have a cabin near Klamath Falls, and several times a year they unite for an outing, and usually get their share of fish and game.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris, who came to Upland from Covina, have located at 648 Euclid avenue.

ODORANT ADDED TO GAS AS MEANS OF PROTECTING USERS

Southern Counties Gas Company Extends New Plan to Local Territory

TO CONSTRUCT PLANT

Preparation in Fuel Will Enable Consumers to Detect Leaks

An odorant is being added to the gas served local people by the Southern Counties Gas company as a protective measure, it was announced today by C. A. Rogers, district manager, who also told of plans for the construction of an odorizing plant at Riverside drive, Ontario.

Started as an experiment July 14, the plan of adding a strong odorant to the lines is proving satisfactory as a means of promptly notifying consumers of a gas jet being on, without a flame burning, the official explained.

Only part of the territory is receiving the odorized gas, as the special plants are not sufficient at present to treat all the system, Mr. Rogers said. The Ontario plant will not be large, and within three weeks it will be in operation, if present plans materialize.

The odor given off by the escaping gas is that of oil and was described by Mr. Rogers as being peculiar to gasoline refining plants. The odor cannot escape detection, the official explained with emphasis.

The odorant is a special preparation, supplied by the Standard Oil company. It is added to the gas line.

Throughout all the company's system, the odorant is being added.

Meat Dealers' Group Convenes in Ontario

All the Upland members were present, including Guy Clark, Ernie Olson, George F. Seguin, and Douglas Hartzog.

ETIWANDA COUPLE DIE FROM FLAMES

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Fail to Survive Effects of Fire
From Gas

ETIWANDA, Sept. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers, who operated the Orchard garage here, were so severely burned when their gasoline stove exploded Sunday at noon that they died a few hours later at the San Antonio Community hospital at Upland, where they were taken following the accident by Constable J. D. Orendorf. Mr. Rogers died at 7:25 p. m., and Mrs. Rogers ten minutes later. The young couple were not well known here, having been here but a few weeks, and no relatives had been located at the time of their death. Mr. Rogers was known to have a sister in Pasadena and efforts were being made to locate her, while Mrs. Rogers' people live in Texas.

No Inquest Held In Rogers' Death

Without an inquest, death certificates were issued by Coroner U'ren in the cases of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Rogers, who died as the result of burns Sunday night.

An explosion by a gasoline stove ignited Mrs. Rogers' clothes and in an effort to extinguish the flames, Mr. Rogers' clothing became ignited. Mrs. Rogers' sister from Pasadena, was here making arrangements with the J. B. Draper company for the funeral. The woman's body will be sent to Victoria, Texas, where the mother resides, for burial, and Mr. Rogers' body will be taken to Missouri.

The Draper company is in charge of arrangements.

Silver Link Rebekah lodge will meet in regular session in the I. O. O. F. hall Friday night.

To the Little Gray Captain of "The Synagogue of Prayer"

Dr. R. C. Stone, pastor of the Upland Presbyterian church, was one of the 216 Upland people who went to "The Green Verdugo Hills" Friday evening and were so impressed and thrilled by the reception accorded them, the surroundings and the play. This tribute by Dr. Stone expresses the sentiment of all who were privileged to be there:

Here's to the Little Gray Captain of the Synagogue of Prayer who presides over the Temple that crowns the Green Verdugo Hills. Your mother called you John Steven McGroarty, but the world will know you as one of the richest finds in all "the gold diggings" of California.

A little while ago a few of us from Upland followed "the little foolish lights of our automobiles" to the foot of the lighted cross that stands guard over your peaceful, happy home, a home made sacred by a thousand prayers. Like the priests of old, your benign face seemed wreathed in a halo of light as you spoke your welcome. But unlike the priest, your dear, gentle wife stood by the door to assure all comers that the home was theirs. Every room and picture and window seemed inhabited by some bewitching fairy who wished to tell us the charms of that particular spot, made beautiful by holy memories.

And then we went down the trail with our faces toward the lights of the valley, a valley that looked like the sky turned upside down. A bugle called us to the canvass covered oaks, oaks whose every branch and leaf shone and sparkled in the brilliant lights. We were taken back eighty years to view again the scenes of El Dorado of '49, a beautiful reproduction of those stirring, sad, heart-breaking experiences, when gold was found and lost, and souls were driven alone, stripped and bare, like withered leaves before the winter storm. We forgot about the gold to think of men and women, of boys and girls, as we saw them react or surrender to hope or despair. It was a great play of life—life without the protection of human law. But the divine fire in every breast was forever breaking out anew and would not be quenched.

Then Bishop Taylor comes, a minister for Mary's Son, and brings the love and the mercy of God into the wild life of the mining camp. He prevents a tragedy by a gunman and compels the man who showed no mercy to beg for mercy from the hand of God. The moving, melting songs of the church are sung in the bar room of Hangtown and even the keeper of the bar advises wild men to leave the drink alone.

Woman's holy place in that wild life of tragedy is most beautifully depicted in Cicely Lou.

Yes, dear, tender, eloquent Captain of the Synagogue of Prayer, your work is always well done. You have shown us how love of country must forever go with love of men and love of God. If we have any influence at a throne of grace, all your sins will be forgiven.

JAYSEE BUILDING TO COST $118,376

Campbell Construction Firm
Gets Contract; To Be Ready March 15

First unit of the Chaffey junior college building will be erected at a cost of $118,376, as the result of the awarding of contracts by the board of education. Work is to be started on the structure within 12 days by the Campbell Construction company, Ontario, which was the low bidder on the general contract.

In every possible instance West End contractors were successful in their efforts to get the contracts, they being the lowest bidders on the various types of work included in the several contracts.

The Campbell company will receive $78,893 for its part in the work, being a few hundred dollars less than the total bid submitted by H. G. Kusanma of Cucamonga, who failed to get the contract.

The Chaffey board, meeting on Saturday afternoon, received 14 estimates and an announcement today told of the successful firms. The Davis Electric company will do the wiring and all electrical installations for $5,280, while the Ontario Plumbing company has the plumbing contract at the sum of $5,520. Heating contract was let to Coony & Winterbottom, Inc., Los Angeles, at a figure of $19,356, and the case work contract goes to Anderson company, Los Angeles, for $9,657.

Contracts for the work will be signed Thursday. Work is to start 10 days later. The time specification in the contract calls for the building to be completed about March 15.

The new structure will be located on Euclid avenue and Fifth street.

Perdew Acquitted on Closed Area Smoking Charge by Jury Today

On a charge of smoking in a closed area, Robert Perdew was found not guilty by a jury of 12 men in Judge George R. Crane's court this morning. He was arrested about ten days ago while digging a well on a ranch in Cucamonga canyon and pleaded not guilty when appearing before Judge Crane.

Mr. Perdew admitted smoking, but his contention was that he was smoking in an area that was not dangerous and that he had made it his place of habitation during the day.

On the jury were J. F. Franklin, J. M. Hawthorne, B. Hawkey, Clay W. Moore, S. D. Allee, Sam Jacobs, F. A. Lutz, Cecil Myers, W. E. Walk, Edward J. Mentzel, George B. Bower and David Hilberg.

FISH RECORD SET AS 270 POUND JEW IS BROUGHT HERE

Don Meredith Gets Big One
Near Oxnard and May Win
Creighton Prize

STRUGGLE 45 MINUTES

Record of Big Catch Will Be Entered in Contest For National Prize

No fish story was necessary to convey to the admiring fellow citizens that the fish he caught was a big one. Don Meredith, the hero in the minds of many local fishermen and the person in line for the biggest prize offered here and contender in a national fishermen's contest, is today displaying the 270-pound jewfish he caught Sunday.

Off the coast of Oxnard about 25 miles and near Anacapa island, Mr. Meredith caught the fish that set a new local record. After a 45-minute battle with his catch, Mr. Meredith landed the fish in a boat. Using a fly hook on a 21-strand line, and mackerel for bait, the local sportsman made the catch.

He went north to be at the fishing site Sunday morning and at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon his bait caught the eye of the jewfish, and the battle for life followed.

Roy Creighton offers an annual prize to the fisherman who brings in the largest deep sea fish. A valuable rod is the reward. On October 1 the contest closes. Until Mr. Meredith entered his 270-pounder, Dave Vashbinder was the leading aspirant for the prize. Mr. Vashbinder, however, still thinks there is time to win, and more than ever he is using the rod.

Mr. Meredith's record will also be placed in a national contest through Mr. Creighton.

Brethren in Christ Council Will Meet

The semi-annual council of the Brethren in Christ church will meet at the church Tuesday. Reports of the several departments of the church will be made and routine business transacted. One of the most important matters is the selection of a church chorister. A full attendance of the membership is expected.

COUNTRIES LINKED IN ROTARY CLUB

Meeting Today Takes on International Aspect With Messages Received

Meeting of the Upland Rotary club in the Sycamores at noon today took on an international aspect, with a letter written in Spanish from the Arequipa, Peru, South America, Rotary club telling of the visit there of G. A. Hanson, Upland Rotarian, with greetings from Dr. A. L. Weber, who is in Canada on a vacation trip, going eventually to Chicago, and with Harlow S. Wilson telling of his visit into Canada east to New York and return.

A. L. Parris reviewed an article in the Rotary magazine entitled, "And Then Rotary Came Along." The South American letter told in descriptive terms of how the club greeted Mr. Hanson and how the Rotarians came to their feet in recognition of the internationalism that prevails in Rotary. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson are expected to arrive in New York on their homeward trip Sept. 30.

Mr. Wilson outlined the trip he took this summer going to Vancouver and from there on the Thompson and Fraser rivers to Lake Louise and the heart of the Canadian Rockies. From Banff, he went east across the prairies to Winnipeg, and on to Caladonia, N. Y., where he met his wife, who had been visiting for some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Perhamus.

The return trip was made through Canada also, with stops at Jasper lodge, and at Victoria and other points.

Tom Nichols who is also vacationing sent his greetings from Illinois.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. John McKee of Cucamonga at the San Antonio Community hospital on Sunday.

Mother, Daughter Rivals For Honors In Chaffey Study

The young and the old—and mother and daughter meet as students on the Chaffey junior college campus.

A 15-year-old girl is a fellow Jaysee freshman along with a 61-year-old mother. This mother, whose home is Claremont, is also a student with her daughter, both in the same class.

The youngest college student in the Chaffey institution is Clara Ebeling of China, who is almost 16—15 years and 11 months—of age. As a 6-year-old girl she began her classroom work and the 12 grades between the first elementary and first year of college have been made in nine years.

Seventeen Chaffey college students are 16 years of age. Mrs. Stella Vasburg is one of several mothers in the institution, but her age gives her the distinction of being the oldest student enrolled. She not only has the distinction of age, but also the honor of being a freshman along with her daughter, Stella Vasburg. They are taking almost the same courses, and consequently rival each other for the highest honors. In one little examination last week the mother excelled the daughter.

Aspirations of being a botanical artist along with other features attracted the mother to enroll. The daughter plans to enter U. C. L. A. and become a teacher after her graduation from the local school.

216 UPLANDERS AT M'GROARTY PLAY

Gracious Reception at McGroarty Home—Play "El Dorado" Is Seen

As a result of the special courtesy shown them by John Steven McGroarty, 216 Uplanders made the trip to the "Green Verdugo Hills" to see his new play, "El Dorado," last Friday evening. That Mr. McGroarty is greatly admired by Upland people and that they appreciate his several visits to this city on public occasions was shown emphatically by this large attendance at his play.

Besides those who went in their own cars, two large buses were necessary to accommodate others who wished to go. Previous to the play the McGroarty home in the hills was thrown open to the visitors and Mrs. McGroarty herself graciously greeted the visitors at the door. They were given the privilege of going through the home and were delighted with its many attractive and homey features. The guests were also greeted by Mr. McGroarty and punch was served. The view from his study, where he writes his articles and plays, is one of beauty and brought forth the comment that "most anyone could write with such a wonderful setting to inspire him."

A winding path leads to the home, a few hundred yards below which is the tent theatre where the plays are presented. The tent walls surround a number of beautiful trees, the tops of some extending through the top of the canvas. The stage is large and the scenic effects beautiful and true to the period which the play represents. Dr. Stone's article on this page gives a splendid outline of the play, which was indeed greatly enjoyed by the visitors.

Adjoining the theatre are the picnic grounds, where the Uplanders ate their picnic dinner and were served with coffee with the compliments of Mr. McGroarty.

Mr. McGroarty made a "curtain speech" between acts, in which he expressed his thanks to Upland people and again stated the Pioneer Pilgrimage pageant recently presented here was the best thing of the kind ever given in California.

RULES GOVERNING SUBDIVISIONS ON EUCLID DISCUSSED

Property Owners Consider
Requirements and Name
Special Committee

LARGE LOTS ARE SOUGHT

Planning Commission Will Get Recommendation Governing Buildings

Owners of Euclid avenue property north of Seventeenth street met last night at the office of Liberty Groves Operating corporation and took the first steps looking toward the uniform and restricted subdivision of property in their district.

Various suggestions were given, discussion was held and definite action came when a committee of five members was appointed to study the proposals and report at a future meeting of the property owners. Several members of the city planning commission were present and the planning group is expected to abide by the recommendation of the property owners when a definite policy has been determined.

In turn, the commission will recommend definite restrictions to the city council, which will make the requirements legal.

Included in the suggestions was the plan of making the lots 150 feet wide. A setback line of 75 feet for new houses was also suggested as one of the requirements to be considered. Possibility of planting grevillea trees in the parkway, where the trees planted years ago have died and been taken out, was also considered.

The city's effort to remove commercial signs from the avenue property was given a vote of support.

With about 80 per cent of the property owners present, R. O. Price served as chairman at the meeting, and W. A. Mackay acted as secretary. On the special committee appointed to continue the study are Mr. Price, Earl Paul, John Shepperson, Frank Baxter and Mrs. L. D. Temple. Richard G. Manley, city service manager, and a member of the planning commission, will serve in an advisory capacity on the committee.

RATE HEARING IS CENTER OF ACTION

Two Cities Facing Special
Experts in Request For New Charges

Facing expert accountants and engineers as opponents, Upland and Ontario city officials at 2 o'clock this afternoon were in the Ontario city hall for the railroad commission hearing on the request of the Ontario-Upland Telephone company for an increase in rates.

Edward E. Gray, Upland city attorney, said this morning that considering everything the cities were at a disadvantage due to the years of special experience the phone company's witnesses have had in the rate questions. Another factor that loomed against the cities was the inability of the Farm Bureau engineers to make a study of the rate increase request, after the municipal officials had expected support from this source.

Getting under way this afternoon, the hearing will in all probability be continued until tomorrow. After the close of the testimony, the commissioner's examiner will take the facts, figures and comments before the commission. It will likely be several weeks before a decision is rendered, Mr. Gray said.

Upland was represented by Mr. Gray and Richard G. Manley, city service manager. R. O. Price was also present as well as others from Upland. Ontario and Upland joined in the cross-examination, with Austin Burt, city service manager, and E. H. Joliffe, the principal officials.

Ernest Irwin, who for years has prepared evidence for telephone companies in rate hearings, was present as the leading witness for the public utility.

Mr. Gray expressed himself as being confident the commissioners will give more than ordinary interest to the matter and he is relying on the judgment of the officials to give a fair decision.

Business Reactions

The First National Bank of Upland hands us the following clipping taken from the September, 1930, Bulletin of the National City Company of New York City, referring particularly to business reactions:

"Business reactions are as inevitable a part of business life as business booms, in fact are the reverse swing of the pendulum. It is not at all likely that they will be done away with as long as people tend to be optimistic and pessimistic in the mass and by spells.

"One or the other mood carries the trend of the moment to an extreme from which a reaction is inevitable. When optimism rules prices mount, expenses grow, debts accumulate, and from top to bottom there is likely to be a lack of resources in reserve, which eventually is the source of fatal weakness. There must be reserve resources somewhere to stop a panic or end a depression, and the longer the period of prosperity the greater the number of persons who have everything in margins of some kind and nothing in reserve resources. Too many are not in position to stand a reverse of the rising trend, and yet it is a certainty that a period of prosperity will engender an excess of optimism which will discount the future unduly.

"These are the tendencies and conditions which are responsible for the business cycle, and as they have their roots in human nature itself it need not be supposed that they can be readily overcome. Although everybody, from the richest corporation down to the worker who loses his job, suffers losses in these reactions, there is a degree of personal protection for everybody by accumulating reserves in time of prosperity.

"The wisdom of laying by something for a 'rainy day' has come down from generation to generation, and it may be put down as a truism that the more generally it is practiced the less disastrous will be the business depressions."

The little red school house in which so many boys and girls have grown up through the eighth grade under one teacher is rapidly becoming extinct. Consolidation of rural schools is the big reason for this. There are now approximately 17,000 such union schools employing some 42,000 buses to transport one and a quarter million children to schools, which are on the whole as adequate and up-to-date as those in the cities. There were 153,306 one-room school houses on the records at the end of the school year in June, 1929, a decrease of 8,225 over the 1925-1926 school year, indicating that the little schools are passing at a rapid rate. Conditions in California are ideal for these consolidated schools, but in other parts of the country where they have severe winters and bad roads those who live the greatest distances from the schools are against them in many instances, and this has defeated many a consolidated school proposition in the middle west.

What people consider hard times in this day is when they feel poor if they can't buy a lot of things they don't need.

And once more mother says: School starts for the children, but it's the beginning of vacation for mother.

Miss Maude Forbes Honored

On Eve of Departure—

Miss Maude Forbes of San Antonio Heights, one of the most active members of the Bethany Union church and the Ladies Aid society, is preparing to move to Long Beach where she has accepted a splendid position with the Long Beach day nursery.

Her friends, who are numerous, although wishing her success in her new work, still are keenly regretting her removal from the community and by way of expressing their appreciation of her friendship and their good wishes for her future, the members of the Bethany Union Ladies Aid gave a delightful surprise party in her honor last evening.

Gathering at the church the group of friends called Miss Forbes down on pretext of a business meeting and she was completely and most pleasantly surprised when she discovered she was the honored guest at a party.

As a token of their regard the group presented to Miss Forbes a handsome white gold lavaliere, the presentation being made by Mrs. C. E. Gansby who very prettily expressed the sentiment of her friends.

During the evening an enjoyable program was given including songs by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Millard, piano numbers by Miss Esther Hewlett, readings by Edgar Guest by Mrs. H. F. Rice and a humorous reading by Mrs. Bert Collins.

Concluding the pleasant evening dainty refreshments were served.

Will school-bound students learn this lesson?

"Reading, writing, arithmetic." They'll learn these things at school. But upon you will depend their appreciation for the finer things of life. Why not start by presenting them with some worthwhile gift from this store when they go back to school. For example, a fine Gruen wrist watch will not only be appreciated—but will encourage the valuable habit of punctuality as well.

Defeats Ontario Second
Time in Series

Winning their second straight victory over the Ontario Cubs, the Merchants last Friday night won for themselves the distinction of having the best night ball team in the valley. The Merchants took the play-off series by winning the first game and then coming back and downing the Cubs Friday night by an 8 to 4 count.

Tedder again pitched the Merchants to victory over the Cubs, allowing but seven hits and striking out as many batters. Three home runs were batted out during the contest and all were made by Merchant players. Wilson, Terry and Bailey were the three players to connect for the circuit. Cornelius collected two safe blows in three tries, ont hit being good for two bases.

Both teams started out strong in the opening frame. The Merchants led off in their half of the inning by putting across three runs. The Cubs came right back in their half of the same frame and scored twice. The Cubs tied the count in the third and took the lead by scoring once in the fourth. However, the Cubs' lead did not last long because the Merchants practically sewed up the contest in the fifth and sixth innings when they scored three in the fifth and a pair of runs in the sixth.

CHAFFEY GRIDDERS WORK TO ONE END

Place on One of Three Teams
Is Goal of More Than 100 Aspirants

More than one hundred high school and junior college gridders were in a terrific battle today for places on three teams and as the time nears for the start of the season, competition becomes more fierce.

Jaysee's 20 to 0 defeat at the hands of Santa Ana Saturday added a little momentum to the already fairly keen battle.

Three games are on the docket for this week. Chaffey soph and Chino high school regulars will inaugurate Graber field in the first home game of the season Thursday. Friday, Coach Mitchell will visit Fullerton and Saturday the Fullerton Jaysee will be here to test the strength of Heiser's long list of Jaysee aspirants.

Nothing but business is the rule as the three groups of teams work about 2-12 hours on signal formations, scrimmages and other preliminary training antics.

Van Nuys News: Some reader has sent us this one: A real estate salesman of West Texas has just finished describing the glorious opportunities of that part of the country. "All West Texas needs to become the garden spot of the world is good people and water," he said. "Huh!" replied the prospect. "That's all hell needs."

Not Long Ago
... a Miracle

Today, a fact in 26,000
California Homes

Eleven years ago, Steinmetz, the great electrical wizard, predicted that in time to come our cooking would be done automatically, with the control of a dial.

Even electrical engineers thought then that Steinmetz was a bit too optimistic... that such an achievement would be little short of a miracle. But today, 26,000 California women know automatic cookery, at the control of a dial, as a fact.

In 26,000 California homes automatic cooking has become as commonplace, as natural, as automatic refrigeration... and it is as simple. It is as saving in time and labor and in the prevention of food spoilage. It is as clean, as cool, as dainty. It is as economical, in actual dollars and cents, when contrasted with the old-fashioned methods of cooking. All range users enjoy a special low rate.

No longer a miracle... no longer a luxury... electrical automatic cooking is the approved, accepted method in more than a million progressive American homes. Why not learn how easily you can install this modern method in your home... how much it will mean to you?

Phone your dealer or any Edison office for details, or, far better, drop in and see the beautiful modern models of automatic electric ranges.
